DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to the remarks of the applicant, filed on 7/2/04. Claims 21-28, 41-48 and 61-74 are presented.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b). Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 21-28, 41-48, and 61-74 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,633,314 and claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,690,403. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they claim the same subject matter. The patents substantially disclose the instant claims of the application but do not specifically disclose the remote document as a virtual desktop. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to describe the remote document as a virtual desktop, since a user through images manipulates them both.

Art Unit: 2145

4. Applicant's arguments filed 7/2/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

5. (A) USPN 6,690,403 and 6,633,314 do not disclose the limitation a virtual desktop. A graphical desktop environment as a graphical user interface for a user to control a computer is substantially different from a web document.

As to point (A), the patents do disclose an image, from the server, at which a user input can be accepted for an operation at the server [6,690,403 claim 4 and 6,633,314 claim 13]. It is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., "graphical user interface") are not recited in the rejected claim(s). See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Therefore, the virtual desktop can be shown as a document, which a user input can be accepted for an operation at the server. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to describe the remote document as a virtual desktop, since a user through images manipulates them both.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
